construct some irreducible representations of this group using the same techniques as in the $SO(3)$ case. A complete theory of representations for these groups is considerably more difficult than the representation theory for $SO(3)$ and lies beyond the scope of these lecture notes.

Chapter 4 Representations of some Matrix Groups

30 Graphical Representations of Data Visualization techniques are ways of creating and manipulating graphical representations of data. We use these representations in order to gain better insight and understanding of the problem we are studying - pictures can convey an overall message much better than a list of numbers.

representations, but on the question of whether or not the representation best represents the data. Purpose of Unit 3 The aim of this unit is to look at a variety of ways to represent data and to compare these for the best representation of the data given. The unit will look at : frequency tables, pictograms, bar charts, line bar charts ...
